Last month, we came across an interesting piece of news -- a jailbreak for iOS 6 had been found. Today, we have some more important news for all you iTunes users -- a fresh jailbreak for iOS 6 has been released, and it's able to jailbreak not just the iPhone 4S, iPhone 5 and iPad 3G/4/mini, but also the iPad 2. So, if you're still holding on to your original iPhone 4S or even iPhone 4, now's the time to upgrade and take advantage of the latest features, don't you think? Now, after you've set your device to iOS 6 beta 5, all you need to do is follow the simple steps below, and your iPhone 4 will be on its way to the land of Cydia. Jailbreak guide for iOS 6 Okay, here we go. If you want to jailbreak your iPhone 4S, iPhone 5 or iPad 3G/4/mini, you'll need to upgrade to iOS 6, as Apple recently released iOS 6 for all supported devices. Even if you don't have a jailbroken iPhone 5, the same jailbreak can be used for older devices, like the iPhone 4S or iPad 2. In order to do this, you'll need to use the iOS 6 beta 5.0.1 Jailbreak. As always, be cautious when installing such files on your iOS device, as you may brick your device. Also, don't install such jailbreak files on an iOS device without fully reading the terms and conditions of use, and, if you have any doubts at all, try to get hold of help in the comments section below. Jailbreaking iOS 6 will still take some time, but you can't do anything about it now. However, once it's done, you can use Cydia to install your favorite tweaks, themes and apps right on your iPhone 4/4S. Skype has been working on a new version of its client for iOS, bringing a number of new features to its app. The updated app is now available for download on iTunes. Skype for iOS 6 Skype has rolled out the new version of its iOS client for iPhone and iPad users. Although it is listed as version 6.0.3, it is the same client you have been using for a long time. The new version of the app brings the ability to view a user's contact list directly from the message window. Moreover, the app has been given a more
