Undercity is a virtual underground colony of devil-like creatures from a dark future. Each of these demons were created by the scientists of a secretive underground corporation to do their bidding, but for their incompetence and cruelty the beast-creatures were unleashed on the populace. In the year 2048 mankind learned to defend itself against the monsters, which forced the corporations into secrecy. The underground was inhabited for decades, until some years ago, when the revelations of corporate conspiracy, corporate control, and corporate duplicity turned the Uptowns into violent hells filled with perpetual night. There is little to no hope for the future outside the collective comforts of the Uptowns. The Undercity is where street punks and juvenile delinquents serve as the lowest class. They are forced to serve the devil-creatures as they are their only food source. It is also where the street gangs roam about and terrorize and kill. In this environment the punks are pitied and are often victims of violence, thus they become anti-social. The juvenile delinquents, who are also made into devil-creatures live on the streets, but unlike the punks, they do not serve the devil-creatures in any capacity. The juvenile delinquents live in an open prison, and thus they are more rebellious, but still greatly harmed by the society.
