Comfortable Suite offers the second highest security. The application automatically forces logins for apps, even if the password is wrong, and the length of the password is limited to 15 characters. In this security level, if the password is right, the user will automatically be logged in. Easy Suite is the lowest security level. The application automatically forces logins for apps, but it doesn't require the correct password, so that your account can be easily hacked. The password is not limited in length, and it's not required to log in to continue using the service.
